

ANNA MARIA MANALO

AUTHOR OF PARANORMAL SUSPENSE
MEMOIRS AND ANTHOLOGIES

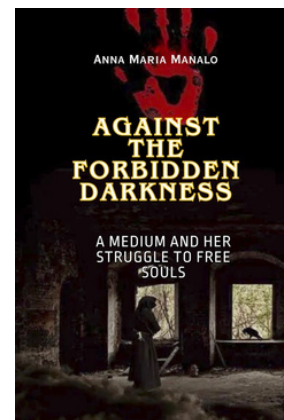

Filipina-American Anna Maria Manalo was raised in suburban San Juan, The Philippines. During childhood, her neighborhood was an active hotspot for ghosts, apparitions and other entities. These experiences led to her interest in the supernatural after her father's tragic death from a demonic infestation in their home.

@THESINISTERARCHIVES

She began as a screenwriter of science fiction thrillers and elevated horror, placing top ten and as a semi-finalist for her horror screenplays, From Within Me (Big Break), Under Tango Road (Creative World Awards) and one of her sci fi thrillers, Uncharted Darkness.

She specializes in hauntings brought about by catastrophic events such as WWII, acts of human violence, odd and strange entities that appear in remote, isolated or abandoned places or beings created by human thought called Tulpas.
